THE LOCK FILE

THE LOCK FILE is a clear plastic file covered with printed dots rendering the document inside the clear file unreadable. The file is suitable for hospitals, real estate agents, businessmen or any person carrying around delicate information, such as patient files, estimates, bids and more.

THE LOCK FILE is equipped with a cut on each side, designed to lock the document in place thus eliminating the risk of dropping your important documents around the floor, or having the documents sliding around in your bag. The cuts also doubles as a window for you to insert basic information regarding what document is inside the file.

MADE IN JAPAN

- THE LOCK FILE is designed in Japan. Its need was apparent due to the large amount of businesses using clear files to neatly and carefully store and store documents before handing it to customers.

Although the original file was useful, it left a lot to wish for. For obvious reasons it could be read by others, however, using a colored file would make you have to either open the file to confirm its contents, or you would have to write or print a label to attach to the file.

The solution? THE LOCK FILE. Hides the document while being able to reveal parts of it to make the files arrangerable, staying unopened. Staying safe.
